Think Scientifically

Make hypothesis and check them. Dialogue and meditate on science according to the rules of the art with engineering you can learn at night.

If artificial intelligence does not satisfy you, titillate it to create a hypothesis yourself. One day your hypotheses will come up with a higher hypothesis or a thought experiment.

If you think you have found something new, spread your find by either trying to patent it. It was then necessary not to broadcast it on the AI. Or while broadcasting you get it public on <http://web.archive.org> or <https://archive.is> using your blog mentioning you.
